INTRODUCTION

- E-Residency is a secure digital identity issued by Estonia, allowing non-residents to establish and manage an EU-based company entirely online.
- This concept which was introduced in 2014 represents a new model of borderless digital governance.
- It showcases how technology can transform public administration, promote entrepreneurship, and integrate global citizens into a digital state.

THE SIMPLE APPLICATION PROCESS

KEY FEATURES

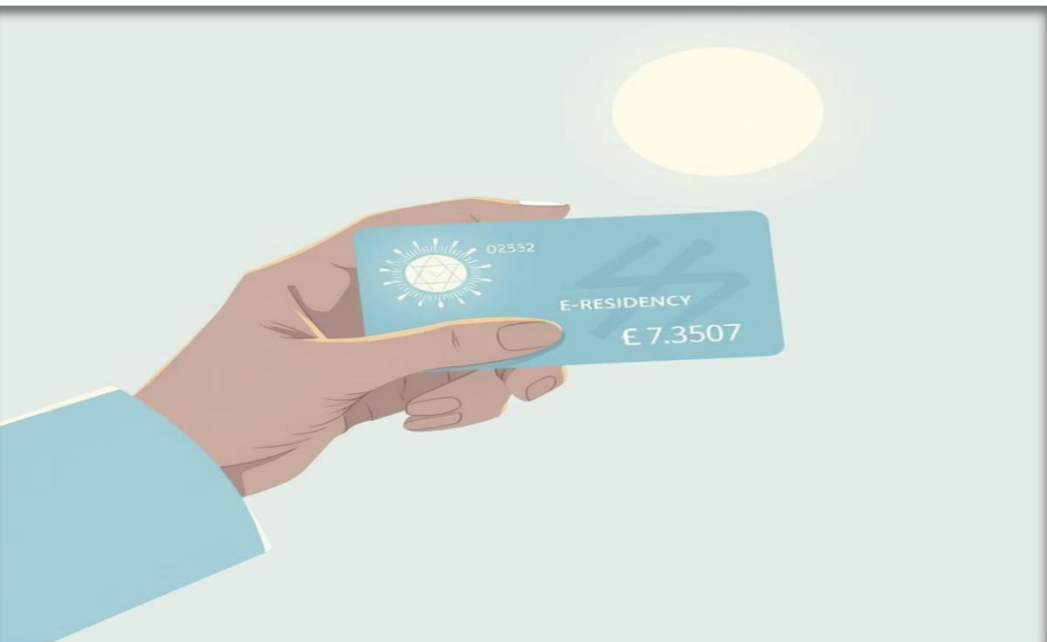

- ✓ Government-Issued Digital Identity
- ✓ Legally Valid Digital Signatures
- ✓ 100% Online Business Management
- ✓ Access to EU Business Environment
- ✓ Transparent & Simple Tax System
- ✓ Global Accessibility
- ✓ No Physical Residency Requirement
- ✓ High Level of Cybersecurity

HOWEVER

E-Residency is NOT a shortcut to:

- ❖ Citizenship
- ❖ Physical Residency
- ❖ Visa or Travel Rights
- ❖ Automatic Tax Residency

LIMITATIONS

- Banking and Financial Access Challenges
- Compliance and Legal Obligations
- Costs Involved
- Limited Use Outside Business
- Permanent Establishment Risk
- Cyberthreats and Digital Dependency

FUTURE OF E-RESIDENCY

- ❑ Global Expansion: Growing number of e-residents and companies from all regions of the world.
- ❑ Remote Identity Verification: Moving away from the physical ID card with pilots for secure mobile verification.
- ❑ EU Market Access: Continuing to provide a virtual gateway to the EU single market for location-independent entrepreneurs.
- ❑ Enhanced Security & Convenience: Integrating new tech for more secure and faster onboarding.
- ❑ Borderless Entrepreneurship: Supporting remote work, digital nomads, and location-independent businesses.
- ❑ Governance Model: Setting a global example for digital governance and virtual state services.

CONCLUSION

- Estonia's e-Residency provides a secure digital identity for global citizens.
- It enables fully online EU-based business registration and management.
- But it is not a shortcut to citizenship, physical residency, or automatic tax residency.
- E-Residency is global model for borderless entrepreneurship and digital governance.
